CONTEMPORARY CURVES

Eclipse is the latest example of the ingenious marriage of material, artistry and shape that has earned Native Trails its reputation for innovation in copper. New to the lavatory basin collection, Eclipse serves up lots of visual interest with a richly textured hand-hammered surface and beautiful, sweeping curves.

Its eye-catching, arched lip reaches two inches in height at its center and gradually slopes downward until flush with the countertop. The upper curve of Eclipse adds a contemporary edge to its distinctive texture and allows the copper's beauty to be appreciated from any angle in the room.

The drop-in basin, handcrafted in recycled copper, is available in a richly hued Antique finish as well as a jewel-like Brushed Nickel. Outside dimensions measure 20" x 13" x 5.5", making Eclipse equally well-suited for a smaller bathroom or as part of a double sink area in a larger bathroom.

Native Trails is an industry leader in the production of artisan crafted sinks and today is featured in over 1100 showrooms in the US and Canada. Eclipse will be available in June. For additional information, please visit www.nativetrails.net.
